

Teesside Music Society

is pleased to present

Cherry Early Music Trio

DEBORAH CATTERALL (mezzo soprano/recorders)

GARETH GLYN ROBERTS (tenor)

HUGH CHERRY (lute/archlute)

Stokesley Methodist Church
Sunday 23rd February, 7.15pm

It Must Be Love...

An intimate, candlelit evening of love through the ages, presenting 300 years of lute songs and solos, showing the change in western music from the late medieval period, through the renaissance and into the early baroque era in England and Italy. The programme includes songs by Dunstable and Fayrfax through to Dowland and Purcell and then moves into Italian repertoire from Landini through to Monteverdi.

Contact Julia Haigh for tickets (tel: 01642 711618)

Tickets available at the door:

Adult single £15, Under-19 & Students £4, Children free