

It's a Gardener's World!

One of the biggest pleasures I've had during this time of Lockdown has been to walk round the fields & outskirts of Stokesley with my dog Tip, passing through estates & wandering along the labyrinth of pathways. It's a joy to walk past people's gardens & take time to watch how nature is carrying on with its job of growing & decorating our green spaces.

Each week, I'll bring you a sample of what I've seen so that we can share together in the beauty of our Stokesley 'bubble'!

Two beautiful examples of 'Molly Moser'!

1. From the garden of Mary & David Hunt
2. From the garden of Pauline & Harry Rowell

This week, look out for the Queen of the Climbers! There are a host of varieties but the Clematis loves the sun & makes a glorious display as the stems twine along fences & bowers.

Shades of Purple

Canterbury Bells planted in a row
Violets scattered everywhere they grow
Lilacs sweet lilacs the best scent in Spring
Fresh Hyacinths bloom in a purple ring
Clematis climbs up a broken barn door
while Vinca spreads across God's green floor.
Shades of purple bring pure perfume to me
Lavender, Periwinkle
What a sight to see.
